

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S WALTZ SONG.

"There's Always One You Can't Forget."

Letra e musica do famoso astro da tela

CRONO. In this song the notes should be sustained: Legato—played on organ tuner.

There's al ways one you can't for - get, There's al ways one, one vain re - gret, Tho' grief is dead mem'ry sur - vives, Fate linked us two, ma ted our lives... Why did we meet on - ly to part, Love comes but once in - to the heart, Tho' it may cause pain and re - gret, There's al ways one - you can't for - get - get.

I.
SIT alone at twilight gazing in the fire-
light glow,
And my mem'ry takes me back again to
days of long ago:
Those happy days when you and I would
share the sun and rain.
Ah! what would I give if I could live those happy days again.

CHORUS.
There's always one you can't forget; there's always one, one vain regret.
Tho' grief is dead, mem'ry survives; fate
linked us two, mated our lives.
Why did we meet, only to part? Love comes but once into the heart.
Tho' it may cause pain and regret, there's always one you can't forget.

II.
Tho' destiny decreed that we should live
our lives apart,
Yet your mem'ry dear will ever be engraven
in my heart.
The pain and anguish we endured, unspoken
and unseen,
Why it nearly breaks my heart to think of that which might have been.
